

An advertisement was made in the school urging female students to participate in World Space Week, with the school radio being allocated to a special program on space. The female students participated with drawings and articles about space. The wall was allocated to display the female students' work, and a corner was allocated to display the female students' work.

World Space Week

<https://padlet.com/boson640mohammed/padlet-rupjuk7xsgcfv9cp> •